

A man and a woman are walking away from the camera on a gravel path. The man is on the left, wearing a dark blue jacket and light-colored trousers. The woman is on the right, wearing a teal jacket and light-colored trousers, and is smiling back towards the camera. In the background, a lighthouse sits atop a rocky cliff. The sky is filled with soft, colorful clouds from a sunset or sunrise, with the sun low on the horizon. The ocean is visible in the distance with several large rock formations.

- Kantar conducts a monthly online survey on behalf of Tourism New Zealand in the following key markets:
  - Australia, China, Germany, Japan, UK and USA
  - 150 ACs per country each month
  - Standard reporting is of a six month rolling average which avoids month-by-month variability and ensures a focus on long term trends in the data
- Kantar conducts a bi-annual survey for emerging markets:
  - Canada, India, South Korea and Singapore
  - 300 – 500 ACs per country per wave

- We survey ACs of New Zealand
  - ACs are those who are aware of New Zealand, serious about visiting and who have a realistic budget
- Kantar ensures a representative sample by weighting to the age, gender and region distribution of the online population
  - Online population estimates come from Kantar TNS's 2022 market sizing exercise

Key insights - USA

- The USA is a major opportunity for TNZ to drive arrivals in both short and long-term: there are 47 million ACs, 48% of whom are ready to book. Focus should be on AC conversion by strengthening preference for New Zealand and addressing key concerns and barriers to booking
- Preference for New Zealand remains stable at 59%, but with a long-term upward trend among two of our priority mindsets, Experienced Connectors and Fun-Loving Trail Blazers
- There is an opportunity to boost preference by highlighting a welcoming local culture and people, family friendly experiences and year-round holiday options as these attributes emerge as stronger drivers of preference post-pandemic
- Competitors to focus on are Italy, France, Hawaii, and Australia. Relative to these competitors, New Zealand excels in areas such as scenic landscapes, a place to escape to, and connection with the land, but has room to improve in promoting itself as being a family friendly destination that can be visited year-round
- Softer performance in the latest quarter on feeling ‘comfortable visiting, despite any cultural differences’, ‘landscapes & scenery’ and ‘fun & enjoyment’ is a watch-out
- To convert ACs through the funnel, tactical messages should address key knowledge gaps, namely New Zealand’s weather, travel time, ease of travel, and how welcoming and safe New Zealand is

Key insights Canada

- Canada is an attractive opportunity for TNZ to drive arrivals in both the short and long-term with 5.7 million potential ACs, 26% of whom are ready to book
- To capitalise on this opportunity, tactical marketing messages need to address key concerns and barriers to booking by helping ACs decide on the best time to travel to New Zealand and how to travel around easily
- Competitors to focus on are Australia, Hawaii and Italy. To build a competitive advantage, strategic brand messages should leverage New Zealand's perceived strengths in being pure and pristine, offering range of adventure, opportunities to escape the world, and local experiences – at the same time, addressing perceived weaknesses in being seen as embracing visitors and offering a range of various experiences (not just adventure)
- There are opportunities for partnerships with travel agents, as an increasing proportion of ACs are looking to use travel agents to book overseas holidays

Comments

- ‘Ready to book’ is a claimed state of mind
- It doesn’t mean ACs will book a flight tomorrow if possible to do so, but that the commitment to visit New Zealand is there, and they feel confident enough to consider it a place they’d book travel to
- A number of extrinsic (e.g. price, availability) and intrinsic (e.g. annual leave) factors need to align to make booking / conversion a reality
- We know that people continue researching and planning after reaching the ‘ready to book’ stage; it does not mean the end of engagement between consumers and TNZ / industry players

The size of opportunity in the USA has recently increased and now has an AC incidence of 23% (approx. 47 million people)

Qualifying criteria for defining ACs

New Zealand's appeal has recovered to 52% in the latest quarter after pandemic dip

Appeal

AC Monitor | 6MRA | Target online population aged 18-74

- Appeal is measured among the total online population aged 18 to 74 years old, and is the 'above the funnel' measure
- Appeal measures the emotive connection to the brand, irrespective of the barriers people have in converting their appeal to active consideration and arrivals
- Appeal is likely to be impacted by macro situation, scalable events (i.e., Rugby World Cup, NZ handling of Covid pandemic), and high impact earned mass-reach media TNZ efforts

AC incidence has rebounded to 23% in the latest quarter after pandemic dip, but still below pre-pandemic levels of 3 years ago

Context to preference drivers

- When it comes to choosing a travel destination, not all factors are equally important. We use a method called Jaccard's analysis to estimate which destination attributes have most influence over people's preference for New Zealand as a travel destination.
- We also compare New Zealand's performance with performance among competitors (specific to the market) to help us prioritise which areas to focus our marketing efforts on for each of our key markets.
- We typically conduct a brand driver analysis annually for our key markets, the brand driver analysis included in this report is based on the most recent results available: Data from Jan-22 to Dec-22.

There is an opportunity to promote New Zealand as being a culturally comfortable destination to visit, family friendly and perfect for escaping everyday life as these have emerged as stronger drivers for people post-pandemic

Appendix: Brand positioning ‘how to’

ACs are biased by their predisposition to New Zealand by design. Because we’re already talking to people that really like the idea of visiting New Zealand, New Zealand tends to get rated much more favourably on the brand attributes than competitors do. To better understand relative performance, we need to adjust for this bias and provide an indexed view of performance:

- A score of 100 means performance is in line with expectations after adjusting for bias
- Above 100 indicates a relative strength
- Below 100 indicates a relative weakness

Scores are relative, i.e. removing / adding attributes and / or destinations from the analysis would give different scores

Mindset Introduction

Side by side

Global Priority Mindsets

Additional USA Priority Mindset

Mindset 1 Cautious Escapists

These cautious close-to-homers avoid taking unnecessary risks in life, like consistency and predictability and letting others lead. They have concerns about safety and worry about the future. They follow rules and are late adopters and value family stability and thrift. Travel is less important, but they travel to escape routine, feel pampered and connect with others and it gives them a sense of rejuvenation, appreciating and excitement.

Mindset 2 Experienced Connectors

These open-minded traditionalists like to make their own decisions, support their community and prefer to share credit. They value curiosity, authenticity learning and honesty. They travel for a different worldview, to learn new cultures and experience new things while spending time with others. They're confident travellers who like researching and value experience over money. They'll travel 10 hours plus and 2 + weeks for international holidays and feel grateful and appreciative for travel.

Mindset 3 Vibrant Adventurers

These adventurous risk takers like to make the most out of life. They like experimentation and prefer fun and open-minded, colourful settings and value freedom. Travel has a high importance, and they are motivated by uniqueness, adventure, and a different worldview. They like researching and will spend more to get off the beaten track. They're resilient & will sacrifice other things to travel, seeking less common destinations. Travel makes them feel bold and daring.

Mindset 4 Organised Joy Seekers

These self-reliant planners believe they get from life what they put into it. They avoid unnecessary risk and make their own decisions. Valuing duty, family, knowledge and wealth they like to pamper themselves when travelling and spend time with family and friends. They choose safe destinations, enjoy nature, escaping routine, cuisine and prefer to spectate. While they're less frequent travellers travel gives them joy, rejuvenation, freedom, confidence.

Mindset 5 Spontaneous Explorers

These striving leaders are living their best life, getting ahead and want to be perceived as successful, trendy and important. They value adventure, status, wealth, excitement & romance. They travel to reconnect with self & others, explore nature and a different worldview. They tend to be spontaneous, will do a few shorter trips, avoid sightseeing & like packages and guided tours for ease of travel. Amazement, naughty & quirky are feelings they tap into while traveling.

Mindset 6 Fun Loving Trail Blazers

These balanced, confident achievers are open to risk-taking and experimentation and believe life should be fun. They tend to be influential and value wealth, status, excitement as well as tradition, social responsibility, freedom and loved ones. They travel often and to interesting places to meet people, learn cultures and reconnect with themselves and others. Travel gives them a sense of rejuvenation, joy, boldness and confidence.

Mindset 7 Passive Passengers

These idealistic dreamers want to be like Parrots and Penguins but are more risk-averse in life and like it when others make decisions for them. While they value status and wealth, they prefer consistency. Something of a less-confident traveller, new is not that important, they like travelling locally and do little research or sightseeing. They tend to follow influencers and consult travel agents. They travel to reflect, grow and connect and feel understood.
